L'OCCITANE
EN PROVENCE

A TRUE STORY

L'OCCITANE en Provence was founded in 1976, inspired by the wonders of nature. Produced in the south of France, our beauty products are created with essential oils and natural fragrances, and developed according to phytotherapy and aromatherapy principles. Guided by simple values, such as authenticity, respect, generosity and entrepreneurship, we contribute to local communities' development and biodiversity protection.

A true story lies behind each of our ranges as the brand personally knows its 47 direct producers and the exact plots of land where they grow our beautiful ingredients.

Our laboratory brings together tradition and innovation to develop natural, efficient, sensorial and sustainable cosmetic products. From texture to fragrance, they all promise a delicious moment of well-being and pure delight for the senses.

Indulging your clients and colleagues with L'OCCITANE gifts will reflect thoughtful and responsible gifting as well as delighting them with the best from Provence.

OUR COMMITMENTS

At L'OCCITANE, we believe in gender equality and empowering women to achieve their goals. Through our work in Burkina Faso, we've enabled the women who make our shea butter to gain more independence. Our Foundation has helped them to have access to microcredits, literacy programmes and education for their children. Every year we sell fund-raising products to promote women's leadership.

Our aim: to support over 26,000 women in their socio-economic development by 2020.

The relationship with our producers is precious, and built on trust and mutual respect. They are the ones who grow the locally sourced, traceable ingredients that lie at the heart of our products. We have long term, non-exclusive contracts with our producers, pay them a fair price, and provide them with technical and financial support.

Our aim: to have a Fair Trade relationship with all our direct producers by 2025.

Have you noticed the Braille on our packaging? Or the fundraising products we sell to help fight preventable blindness? Through partnerships with NGOs, UNICEF and our foundation, we act on several fronts to support the blind and visually impaired.

Our aim: to enable 10 million beneficiaries to have access to eye care by 2020.

Artisanal skills are disappearing and yet they are so important! L'OCCITANE has always been passionate about craftsmanship and creativity, and we love to work with local artisans. We showcase their talents and know-how in our stores and work with them to develop exclusive creations so that our customers can appreciate the beauty of their traditional artisanal skills.

Our aim: to support artisans, and share their skills and stories with others.

At L'OCCITANE, we use traceable, sustainably sourced ingredients, making sure that plants are cultivated and harvested without harming the environment or biodiversity. We have even developed supply chains that protect local plant species.

Our aim: to have contributed to protecting 1000 species and varieties of plants by 2025.

Reducing the impact of plastic pollution is one of our big concerns here at L'OCCITANE and we're doing our best to make a difference. We offer recycling services in many of our stores and have a partnership with TerraCycle for difficult-to-recycle packaging.

Our aim: to ensure that 100% of our bottles are made from 100% recycled plastic by 2025, and that 100% of our owned stores offer a recycling service.
